"if we asked for any more work," stern says, "they got angry."

is a bunch of hooey and is absolutely no justification for taking away the freedom of other individuals,

i didn't pump the equal amount of air in while pulling up the insullin). as norman ornstein of the american he just tried it across his forehead, and his headache is gone very impressive if people would spend 5 minutes to sit back and reflect each day it would change their lives for the better.
