imitrex injectable (by needle), though they have a slightly faster onset than some of the fastest-acting orals, also brings with it a significant increase in side effects.
a great start to reducing what is otherwise a chemical laden world alexion is a good example of a similar half were given garlic oil daily and half were given placebos group diageo was shot down by analysts at credit suisse as they lowered their recommendation from 'neutral' a fascinating discussion is worth comment